CS 101-04-20F: Website Construction

Assignment 1

Due: Wednesday 26 August 2020 10:00 A.M. EDT

Make a simple webpage on your philos account. This webpage does not have to be fancy, but it does have to be made from scratch. You should not use Expression Web, Expression Blend, or any other web-designing software. Your webpage should contain your name in the title, and should contain a brief description of you. Include a link to a page on the web that you visit frequently.

Your webpage needs to be stored at the top level of your web folder, and it must be called "index.html".

I also need a second copy of it in your CS101-04-20F folder, so that I can grade it and make comments. Create a folder called "HW1" in the top level of your CS101-04-20F folder and place a copy of your webpage (index.html) in that folder. Also place a (possibly empty) file or folder called "DONE" in the HW1 folder. When I see the DONE file in your HW1 folder, I will know to grade your assignment. Note: Your file must be called "DONE", exactly. It can't be called "done" or "DONE.txt" or anything like that.

Your DONE file needs to be in your HW1 folder within your CS101-04-20F folder, but NOT in your web folder.

Your first assignment has to be in BOTH your web folder and your CS101-04-20F\HW1 folder.
