Quiz 1

Time: 10 minutes

1a. The <BODY> command is inside the <HEAD> command. They should be alongside each other with neither one inside the other.

b. The </TITLE> command is preceding the <TITLE> command. Start commands must always come before end commands.

2.a. Gray occurs when the R, G, and B numbers all match. Dark colors occur when the numbers are small, so maybe 404040 would be a good answer.

b. My sister might not be doing anything wrong at all. Different monitors register color in different ways. If someone is getting a blue tinge from their gray image on their monitor, well, that's life.
